Corporate Communication Services

We offer a range of creative solutions to help your organisation go beyond traditional methods for internal, B2B and B2C communications. Because all people have different communication preferences we will help put together a package of communication media to ensure your message gets heard.

Podcasting

This new technology offers you the opportunity to distribute regular installments of audio/video training or promotional material via the internet. We can help you with every element of setting up this extremely effective system of communication - from the initial script meeting through recording to deploying the XML feed, we'll make it a quick and painless process. Your staff and associates will always have access to the latest information via their PC, PDA or iPod.

Presentations

We can use Macromedia Flash™ to author your presentation materials making them more portable, more engaging and easier to install on a range of platforms. Let us take your old PowerPoint slides and convert them into an exciting multimedia experience complete with music, full motion video and motion graphics. Of course, we can also author standard PowerPoint presentations if required.

Video Production

Re-interpret your existing printed material, still images and video clips into a full motion video montage complete with soundtrack and voice over. We can combine a vast range of media types in ways that you never thought possible and deliver online, via your intranet or on CD or DVD for ultimate accessibility.

Audio Production

Our digital recording studio provides audio for high profile BBC TV and Radio shows. You can take advantage of our experience and facilities to provide a fantastic soundtrack to your next piece of corporate media. To support this service we also offer Voice Casting, Script Writing and Music Composition.

CD and DVD duplication

We have the facilities to provide fast turnaround CD and DVD duplication complete with inlays, full colour digital on-body printing and a range of innovative packaging options.

Standards compliant web development

We specialise in accessible, standards compliant website development. All of our sites are deployed with a database driven Content Management System to enable you to keep them up to date via a simple web interface.

e-learning: teaching and assessment systems

Our experience of secure database systems means we are well placed to develop your next online training and assessment program. Our team have also established and delivered FE courses and have expertise in community access to information.

Flash games

Entertain and educate simultaneously with online games. If you make the message fun then it will propagate more rapidly and be more memorable.

e-cards

Let people know about your latest product, service or sales initiative via an immediate cost effective web mailing. We have provided e-cards to promote TV shows, theatrical productions and new products.
